

趣味运动会分享：一个项目；你的感受 I hope this email finds you well. I'm excited to share my experience at our school's Fun Games Day last Friday.

One of the most unforgettable events was the "Three-Legged Race". Two partners tie their inside legs together and try to run as a team. My partner and I practiced for a while, but during the race we still tripped/stumbled a couple of times — luckily, we didn't fall! The whole playground was filled with laughter and cheers from both players and the audience.

This event taught me that success doesn't always mean winning. What truly matters is teamwork, trust, and having fun together. I felt so relaxed and happy afterward, almost like all my stress had disappeared. I really wish you had been there to join us!

(介绍项目) Among the various events, what struck me most was the caterpillar race. In this game, ten students rode on a caterpillar-shaped model and marched swiftly toward the finish line. Some teams collaborated/pulled together seamlessly (无缝衔接地；流畅地), with everyone moving in perfect harmony, while others didn't coordinate that harmoniously, stumbling forward like clumsy, funny snails. Excited cheers and merry laughter filled the playground throughout the race.

(感受) Through this event, I gained a deeper insight into team spirit — it's all about supporting each other in the face of challenges. The Fun Games Day truly injected vitality into our campus life. I hope you have similar events there.

(介绍项目) What impressed me most was the "Caterpillar" game. In this event, eight students rode on a huge inflatable (充气的) caterpillar together, exerting (用尽) all their strength to drag/move it forward. To maintain an orderly pace, some groups blew whistles, some chanted beats, and some simply yelled while marching chaotically but in high spirits — their disorderly progress made the spectators burst out laughing/burst into laughter. (感受) In this warm and joyful atmosphere, I deeply understood the meaning of collaboration and realized that a difficult problem can be resolved in many different ways.

It was such a refreshing break from our studies. I hope you have a similar event there!

Hope this email finds you well. Aimed at offering students an escape from heavy academic pressure and enriching our dull school life, the Fun Games Day was held as scheduled last Friday.

(介绍项目) The event took place on the school sports field and featured a diverse range of activities, catering to all interests and fitness levels. The highlight was undoubtedly the caterpillar race, which involved ten students, each of whom had to stay focused and keep pace with the others' steps. The most thrilling moment came at the challenging turn, which demanded both speed and teamwork — every participant played a crucial role. It was an unforgettable game. (感受) I not only experienced the spirit and passion of sports but was also deeply touched by the spirit of seamless (浑然一体的；流畅的；无缝的) collaboration and unwavering will.

(介绍项目) Among the various interesting activities, I took part in the "Caterpillar" game, which requires ten students to ride the same inflatable caterpillar and run together toward the finishing line in record time. As we marched forward, everyone's pace had to stay consistent with the others'. When turning around, we had to shift direction as quickly as possible without tripping over.

Despite feeling tired, (感受) I felt my heart filled with a mixture of fulfillment and joy. It was the Fun Games Day — an event that weaves fun into our daily exercise — that taught me how to perform as a team and pursue our shared honor.

Recently, our school held an event called "Fun Games Day," aimed at boosting participation and strengthening team spirit among us students. I'd like to share my experience with you.

(介绍项目) The event featured a wide variety of activities, all of which were highly engaging. But what struck me most was a team game called "Row the Boat," which required us to take turns pulling a blanket forward to create a path. As a member of my group, I spared no effort to pull and push the blanket as fast as I could, trying to minimize the time we took. Despite the baking sun beating down on our backs, our movements remained steady and our determination unshaken. Finally, amid/in the excited cheers and thunderous applause from our classmates, we managed to secure the second place. (感受) It was then that I truly felt the joy of triumph and the power of teamwork—a feeling that will encourage me to keep moving forward in the future.

That's what our Fun Games Day was like. You must be impressed by my description! I hope this gives you a clearer picture of the event and that you'll get to take part in something like it someday.

Hope this letter finds you well. Last Friday, our school held the exciting Fun Games Day, and all the students and faculty took an active part in the games. I'm writing to tell you about the event that impressed me most and to share my happiness.

(介绍项目) The most memorable game was a team skipping challenge. Eight skilled students had to take turns jumping rope within a strict three-minute limit, which tested our physical strength and persistence to the extreme. Despite not any preparation, that didn't defeat us. The nervous, thrilling feeling is still fresh in my mind — we skipped and ran fast, trying to make the most of every second! At the two-minute mark, my body began to protest. I pushed myself until there were only 20 seconds left, at which point my legs decided they were done. But the echoing cheers from the sidelines fueled our determination and can-do attitude. Finally, we made it — exhausted but fulfilled. We skipped 187 times! My whole aching body the next day was actually a victory — proof that I had given it my all.

We are all looking forward to next year's games, and I hope you can experience this happiness too.
